

Yoga Retreat Terms & Conditions

Please read these Terms & Conditions carefully before booking your retreat. By making a booking and submitting payment, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to the following terms.

1. Booking & Payment

A reservation is confirmed once the required deposit has been received.

The retreat organizer reserves the right to release a reservation if payment is not received by the agreed deadline.

Payment can be done in installments due on November 8th, February 8th, March 8th and April 8th or by paying the full amount at booking. A different payment plan can be set up, with the participant and organizer agreeing on a new plan. If the balance is not received by the due date, April 8th, the reservation may be cancelled and the deposit may be forfeited.

Prices are quoted in the currency stated at the time of booking and include only the services specifically listed in the retreat description.

2. Cancellation by the Participant

If you need to cancel your retreat booking, you must notify the retreat organizer in writing.

Unless otherwise stated in your booking information, the following cancellation policy applies:

- Up until January 31st: deposit is non-refundable, but any additional payments is be refundable.
- No refunds after February 1st.

If you are unable to attend, you may request to transfer your booking to another person, subject to approval by the retreat organizer and any additional costs involved.

We strongly recommend purchasing travel insurance that includes cancellation, interruption, medical expenses, and emergency evacuation coverage.

3. Cancellation or Changes by the Organizer

The retreat organizer reserves the right to cancel, postpone, relocate, or substantially modify the retreat due to circumstances beyond their reasonable control, including but not limited to natural disasters, severe weather, government restrictions, illness, travel disruptions, or other unforeseen circumstances.

If the organizer cancels the retreat, participants will be given a full refund. The organizer will not be responsible for additional expenses incurred by participants, including flights, transportation, travel insurance, or other personal expenses.

The organizer also reserves the right to make reasonable changes to the schedule, activities, accommodation, guides, or itinerary when necessary.

4. Travel & Transportation

Participants are responsible for arranging and paying for their own travel to and from the Terontola train station where a shuttle transfer will be provided to the retreat location. The shuttle transfer is based on the arrival of the majority of participants arriving and departing.

Participants are responsible for ensuring that they have all necessary passports, visas, travel documents, and insurance required for their trip.

The retreat organizer is not responsible for missed flights, delayed transportation, lost luggage, or other travel-related issues.

5. Health & Yoga Practice

Yoga and other retreat activities involve physical movement and may carry some risk of injury.

Participants are responsible for informing the yoga instructor or retreat organizer of any injuries, physical limitations, medical conditions, or other relevant circumstances that may affect their participation.

Participants should practice within their own abilities and are encouraged to consult a qualified healthcare professional before participating if they have concerns about their ability to safely take part.

The retreat organizer and instructors are not responsible for injuries resulting from a participant's failure to follow instructions, disclose relevant limitations, or practice within their own abilities.

Participants may choose not to participate in any activity at any time.

6. Accommodation

Accommodation is provided as described in the retreat package. Room requests, including private rooms, shared rooms, or specific roommates, are subject to availability.

Participants are responsible for treating the accommodation and property with care. Any damage caused by a participant may be charged to that participant.

7. Personal Belongings

Participants are responsible for their personal belongings throughout the retreat.

The retreat organizer, instructors, accommodation providers, and activity providers are not responsible for lost, stolen, or damaged personal property.

Participants are encouraged to keep valuables secure and to obtain appropriate travel insurance.

8. Alcohol, Drugs & Conduct

Participants are expected to behave respectfully toward other guests, instructors, staff, accommodation providers, and local communities.

Illegal drugs are strictly prohibited.

Excessive alcohol consumption or behavior that puts the participant or others at risk, causes disruption, or negatively affects the retreat experience may result in the participant being asked to leave the retreat without a refund.

Harassment, discrimination, threatening behavior, violence, or inappropriate conduct will not be tolerated.

9. Activities & Excursions

The retreat includes activities such as hiking, swimming, cooking class, excursions, and other activities outside of yoga.

Participation in optional activities is at the participant's own discretion and risk. Participants are responsible for following all safety instructions provided by activity providers and retreat staff.

Activities may be changed or cancelled due to weather, safety concerns, availability, or other circumstances beyond the organizer's control.

10. Photography & Media

Photographs and videos may be taken during the retreat for promotional or social media purposes.

If you do not wish to appear in photographs or videos used for promotional purposes, please notify the retreat organizer in writing before or during the retreat.

11. Personal Responsibility

Participants are responsible for their own health, safety, personal decisions, and behavior throughout the retreat.

By attending the retreat, participants acknowledge that travel, physical activity, and certain retreat activities may involve inherent risks.

Participants agree to follow reasonable instructions provided by retreat staff, instructors, accommodation providers, and activity operators.

12. Dietary Requirements & Allergies

Participants are responsible for informing the organizer of any dietary requirements, food allergies, or intolerances before the retreat.

While reasonable efforts will be made to accommodate dietary needs, the organizer cannot guarantee an allergen-free environment or prevent cross-contamination.

13. Travel Insurance

Travel insurance is strongly recommended.

Participants should consider coverage for trip cancellation, interruption, medical treatment, emergency evacuation, lost luggage, and other unexpected travel expenses.

14. Force Majeure

The retreat organizer will not be liable for failure to provide services or for delays or changes resulting from circumstances beyond reasonable control, including but not limited to natural disasters, extreme weather, pandemics, government actions, strikes, transportation disruptions, political unrest, or other unforeseen events.

15. Liability

To the extent permitted by applicable law, the retreat organizer is not responsible for loss, injury, illness, damage, delay, or expense arising from participation in the retreat, except where caused by the organizer's negligence or other circumstances for which liability cannot legally be excluded.

Nothing in these Terms & Conditions is intended to exclude or limit any rights or protections that cannot legally be excluded or limited under applicable law.

16. Acceptance of Terms

By booking and participating in the retreat, you confirm that:

- You have read and understood these Terms & Conditions.
- You agree to comply with the retreat rules and guidelines.
- You understand the physical and travel-related nature of the retreat.
- You accept responsibility for your personal health, safety, belongings, and conduct.
- You understand the cancellation and payment policies.